

ArtsWrite, piloted by fine arts writer Katherine Aimone, is a division of Aimone Art Services. The company provides artists in all media with writing and editorial services suited to the individual artist's needs. The request of each artist is assessed in light of its projected use and a price quoted before work is begun.

We assist you with:

Self-published Books

Catalogues

Essays and profiles

Creative partnership between ArtsWrite and the artist is highly valued in the process of discovering what is currently needed and suited to the artist. Essays for books or catalogues, be they self-published or otherwise, are the main focus. Normally the essay length is 1,000 words or more. The material can be used in any way that you wish, be it in a publication, on your website, or in other publications.
